Nefarious: Merchant of Souls is a hard-hitting documentary that gives an in-depth look at the human trafficking industry. The film features first-hand interviews with real victims and traffickers, along with expert analysis from international humanitarian leaders. The filmmaker's goal is to uncover the world of sex slavery in order to move viewers from oblivion to action.

The film is currently NR (not rated). There is no nudity or swearing, but it is a very mature subject matter, with actual footage from red light districts, and re-enactments of what some victims experience. We recommend it for audiences of 18+, but some younger have watched it at their parent's discretion.

One Bread Foundation, Inc. is a Bay Area-based non-profit organization committed to abolishing slavery.

Currently, our team is working to raise funds to rehabilitate child victims of sex trafficking so that they are safe, supported, and have the opportunity to rebuild.

The Foundation's focus includes advocating for children who cannot speak up for themselves, educating our communities about the issues surrounding human trafficking, and collaborating with other agencies seeking to effect positive change.

We hope to shine a light on injustice and introduce practical ways to help through the showing of this film.
