

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

HELP WITH AFFORDABLE HOUSING IN THE BAY AREA

Habitat for Humanity is a nationwide Christian non-profit organization that builds new homes for low-income working families to buy. Through extensive use of volunteer labor, and no-profit mortgage loans, Habitat is able to make a decent and safe home a possibility, even in high-cost areas like ours.

Locally, Habitat is building 20 new homes in Pacheco, and is eager for new volunteers – minimum commitment is just one day! Men and women, 16 – 80, are welcome – no experience, tools, or materials are required – Habitat supplies everything, and trains you on the job.

CPC Member Mike Heller is a regular Habitat volunteer, and would be pleased to provide information on the Pacheco project (and a new one coming soon near the Pleasant Hill BART station), and the opportunities to help create a long-lasting tangible expression of God's love, right here close to home.
