Welcome!

It is our pleasure to introduce Kerri Pomarolli, a standup comedian, veteran actress, author and speaker.

Kerri has been on the path to stardom since she was a child, and at just age 11 was well on her way to becoming a professional dancer when she was diagnosed with scoliosis. She underwent painful treatments, which eventually culminated in a spinal fusion surgery. She could now live a normal life, but her dreams of a dance career were over.

Devastated but determined, young Kerri got out the phone book and called the local theater company. She auditioned and was cast in the lead role of Mary Tilford in Lillian Hellman's The Children's Hour.

In her 20s, Kerri pursued the Hollywood dream of landing the one role that would make her famous and leave her feeling fulfilled. But she soon learned that the pursuit of a star on Hollywood's Walk of Fame was not worth compromising her standards. She decided to enter the world of standup comedy so she would have the ability to create her own content and share stories and messages to inspire and bring joy to her audiences.

Since then, she has become one of the most sought-after comedians in the country and has shared the stage with Sherri Shepherd of The View, Jim Carrey, Jay Leno, Carol Channing and many others. Kerri is also an accomplished actress, with credits that include 29 appearances on NBC's The Tonight Show, Comedy Central and recurring roles on the Port Charles, General Hospital, and The Young and the Restless. Currently, you can see her on Nick at Nite's Moms Night Out and on the popular web series MOMLAND. In June of 2014, Kerri appeared on The Hour of Power, which has a viewership of 42 million.

Her film credits include starring in the award-winning documentary, Hollywood on Fire, with Pat Boone, and La La Land, which premiered in NYC and LA. Kerri appears in the recently released and critically acclaimed documentary American Jesus, and now on Netflix The Brennan Manning Story.

Kerri is also a popular speaker and is frequently engaged for fundraisers, faith-based events, women's conferences and corporate clients like Ford Motor Company and Cisco Systems. She's hosted the GMA Awards and headlined the red-carpet launch for the prestigious California Women's Conference, with more than 20,000 in attendance. Kerri is pleased to be touring with comedian Bob Smiley with the new comedy experience "Single Is Not A 4 Letter Word". www.singleisnota4letterword.com.

Kerri says her greatest joy is using the gift of humor to bring laughter to others. She loves to watch as her audience is filled with hope as they laugh with her about her own mishaps and adventures in life.

In addition to acting and speaking, Kerri is also an accomplished author. She's written a number of books, including How to Ruin Your Dating Life and Guys Like Girls Named Jennie, which is currently being considered for a major motion picture. Her latest, Moms' Night Out, is a funny and encouraging book inspired by the recently released hit feature film by the same name.

Kerri is also very active in the social media world with thousands of Twitter and Instagram followers and Facebook fans.

Kerri is available for media appearances, speaking engagements and book signings. Enclosed you will find media clips, Kerri's bio and presentation overviews. It will be my pleasure to collaborate with you to share Kerri's messages with your audience.

Please feel free to contact 310-933-1614 or Booking@kerripom.com. We appreciate the opportunity!

comedy & speaking

Kerri Pomarolli charms and inspires audiences as she shares stories about her life in Hollywood as an actress, working mother, wife and Christian. Women can easily identify with her as she shares openly about her own struggles – including overcoming feelings of unworthiness as she fought to find her place in life at the “cool table.” Tailoring her presentations to each specific event, she shares with humor and honesty, and is always prepared to weave in the Gospel message. She is comfortable praying one-on-one or on stage, and she often gives audience members the opportunity to give their lives to Jesus Christ. Kerri may be known as a comedian, but she truly has a gift for effortlessly utilizing Scripture to bring hope and healing wherever she speaks. She is a much sought-after retreat speaker nationally.

Comedy for All - Stand-up Comedy (for any audience)

Kerri can tailor her hilarious standup comedy for any audience. Appropriate for all ages and can include a message to fit your audience needs.

Say Yes to God!

Kerri talks about her journey out of being a “type-A” control freak. All about her plans to make it “big” and to be famous in Hollywood, she told God, “When I win an Academy Award, then I’ll say your name!” She’ll share with the audience how God got her attention and won her heart. She will help others learn how to turn their hopes and dreams to God and take a chance on what His will for their lives. God always has a spectacular ending in mind for each of us if we allow Him into our hearts. This message will encourage people from all walks of life to say “YES!” to God!

God's Not Done With You Yet!

When Kerri first came to L.A., she knew no one and battled loneliness and a sense she would never fit in. What she didn’t realize at the time was that her feelings of embarrassment and rejection stemmed from the fact that she was trying to earn God’s love. But her life was changed when she formed an unlikely friendship with an 87-year-old woman named Betty, who truly showed her the importance of Titus chapter two. Kerri will share stories from their mission trips, which they, of course, went on to “meet cute boys!” Betty’s caring influence caused Kerri to take off her “church mask” and be vulnerable with other Christians. After all, no one is perfect! Betty is 100 years old today, and the two ladies remain close friends and prayer partners.

Tales from A Proverbs 32 Woman (women)

Everyone told Kerri that in order to be loved by God, she had to be like the Proverbs 31 woman. But since she doesn't rise early or plow and has never even been in a field, she felt it didn't speak to her at all. She says her idea of "gathering food from afar" is takeout! She says she's more of a Proverbs 32 woman; she rises late, and her kids make her breakfast! In this message, she shares stories from her own life where she felt she didn't quite measure up to the Christian ideal. She exposes the lie that women need to do and have it all and be perfect while they're at it! She answers questions like:

- If you struggle with control, how do you give up your plans and desires to the Lord?
- How can you feel worthy of God's love?
- Does God really sweat the small stuff? Does he care your child just drew all over your new couch with a marker? Does he care you almost brushed your teeth with diaper cream and haven't showered in three days?
- What do you do when you feel like you can't do it anymore?
- Is there room for mistakes in God's kingdom?

Kerri teaches there's nothing we can do to make God love us more or less. Most haven't experienced this kind of unconditional love, but God wants all of his daughters to know how much he loves them. Kerri hopes to help women find freedom from our performance-driven culture.

Waiting on God...Proactively (singles)

Kerri shares her adventures as a single — when she couldn't quite figure out why she wasn't married with kids yet, as her mother prayed she would be. She often felt "less than" and not quite whole and spent her 20s trying to find Mr. Right. While her search garnered her plenty of material for her comedic roles (she was even once rejected by a popular dating website!), there was also plenty of heartache and life lessons. Sharing stories from her successful books, Guys Like Girls Named Jennie and How to Ruin Your Dating Life, her hilarious anecdotes will have audiences rolling with laughter while inspiring them to give their dating life over to God. Kerri's message to singles: No, you do NOT have some kind of terminal disease, and unless you make God the first love of your life, there is no earthly relationship that will ever fulfill you.

I Didn't Make Cheerleading (women)

From a young age, Kerri struggled to fit in. As she grew older, she thought the fame Hollywood offered would fill that void in her heart — that desire to belong. Even as an adult, Christian woman, there can be pressure to make sure you're sitting at the "popular table." Afraid of rejection, we put on our "church face" and don't let our sisters know we're suffering. Kerri tells women they need to get real and be willing to admit to ourselves and others when we struggle. Whether it's depression, anger, grief or loss, we all have scars — God can heal us and we can be strengthened as we help carry one another's burdens.

God Gave You a Boat

All of us experience periods of rough water in life. But surrendering to God is the key to surviving the tsunami of struggles we might face. Kerri knows; she's had to walk side-by-side with her mother as she battled breast cancer multiple times. Drawing from Isaiah 43, she tells audiences if they want to follow the Lord, they have to trust that when they walk through the waters, he is not going to let them drown. The Father will always give us the option of "getting into the boat" with Him. Even when we're on the floor doing the "ugly cry," we can still see God's face if we look for it.

Tales From a Hollywood God Girl

Even as a little girl who didn't quite fit in, Kerri dreamt of fame and fortune. Definitely qualifying as a "strong-willed" child, no one really knew what lay ahead for this quirky kid. After college, she packed up her bags and moved out to Hollywood, much to her mother's dismay. This good little church girl was content to give God about 70% of her life, but when it came to her TV career and her dating life — she wasn't ready to give up that much control! But her family never stopped praying for her, and then one night everything changed. Kerri surrendered her entire life over to God and never looked back. Who knew this precocious teen would become a successful comedian and one of the loudest voices for faith in Hollywood? God has a plan for everyone's life — if they're willing to surrender to Him.

Hollywood Uncovered!

An informative and interactive workshop for anyone who has a heart for media and the arts, whether a prayer warrior or a performer. Kerri will answer questions about and share her personal experiences of working in the arts in and outside of Hollywood. Aspiring actors will participate in improv games and mock audition interviews. Kerri will also share about the world of book publishing and how social media is changing the publicity game. Kerri offers career insights for those intending to pursue a full- or part-time career in the arts.

testimonials & endorsements

"Kerri Pomarolli? She's short, but she really grows on you! She's a real pro and I loved working with her. Delivering her funny stuff while handling the host duties to keep a show like the Dove Awards moving is difficult. She had me at 'And the Dove Award goes to. . . .' Thanks!" — Steve Gilreath, producer/director, 2006 Gospel Music Awards

"Your act was so fine-tuned as well as hilariously funny, but I think the best part of your act was the way you used standup as a witnessing tool. That blew me away. You present the gospel in a non-threatening, non-abrasive way, and everyone who watches your act gets ministered to, whether they realize what is happening or not. God has truly blessed you with the gift of stage-presence and the ability to make people laugh. If I ever have need for an event or a church fellowship meeting, I will definitely be contacting you." — Timothy J. Micsko, Production Manager, USA Cable Entertainment

"She's clean, she's bright, she's funny, she's (pardon me, we can't help it) too cute for words! She's the girl you'd want for a daughter, the big sister you wish your teenager had to look up to. How does she thrive in the not-too-nice world of comedy professionals? Somebody up there likes her. So do we!" — Terry Meeuwssen & Louise Du-Art, hosts of Living The Life Television CBN, ABC Family

"Kerri fit right in with our ladies. This is special because our ladies' age range is from 16-90+. More importantly, Kerri has a wonderful testimony that touches the lives of mothers and daughters. Ladies from across our state are still talking about her comedy act. She had us rolling! It was truly an honor and pleasure to have her at our women's retreat." — Melissa Riordan, secretary to divisional secretary of women's ministries for the Florida Division USS Salvation Army

"Not only did she make us laugh; she made us think. Lots of times you hear a speaker, then walk away and forgot what they talked about. Not Kerri, what she says really sticks, and you walk away challenged. Many of our students said they liked Kerri because she was REAL! You know, students NEED to hear from people that are honest with them." — Andrea Johnston, program assistant for student events department, Lifeway Christian Re-sources

"What a brilliant evening of laughter and encouragement our moms received from Kerri's performance! Her real-life experience, authenticity and humor kept our moms doubled over with laughter. Thank you for creating an amazing evening." — Andrea Jones, director of leadership development and events, MOPS International

"It isn't very often students continue to talk about a chapel message long after the speaker has left the campus, but students at Gardner-Webb are still talking about Kerri Pomarolli and the life-changing message she shared." — Tracey Jessup, dean of student ministries, Gardner-Webb University

"Kerri Pomarolli is a talented performer with an energy and fun personality that makes her performances engaging. Her comedy reflects her unique ability to laugh at herself and the craziness that has been her life. . . . In a day and age when most professing Christians barely look any different than the world, Kerri stands out as a revolutionary of the faith because she is willing to walk out what she believes. . . . She understands that what she is doing is so much more than a career but is in reality a calling from the Lord." — Debbie Fuller, Christian Hollywood Magazine

"Humor is the best way to keep the show rolling, and yours was right on target with your insights on the challenges we face in relationships." — Leslee Unruh, president and founder of the Abstinence Clearinghouse

"We couldn't ask for a better partner in Kerri Pomarolli for our recent fundraiser! She was professional in every way regarding communication before the event and honoring our schedule during the event. She was passionate about our nonprofit adoption agency and promoted our ministry throughout her time on stage. And . . . she was hysterical! If you have the opportunity to book her for your next event, you will be in for a treat that will leave you wanting more, renewed in your love for the Gospel of Jesus Christ and encouraged in the expansion of your ministry!" — Loren Rae Esterling, director of ministry development, Covenant Care and Adoption Services

"Kerri Pomarolli is a hilarious comedian who kept our mixed audience of teens, singles, young parents, middle-aged and senior citizens rolling with laughter. As the coordinator of the event, I found Kerri genuine, friendly and extremely easy to work with. I can't wait to have her back!" — Darla Harvey, women's ministry, Raleigh First Assembly

"During our annual fundraiser, Evening of Comedy, Kerri Pomarolli was our headline act and she was quite impressive. The minute she took the stage we weren't worried about whether or not everyone was having fun — it was evident she was an instant hit. Her brilliant entertaining style also allowed her to bring in an element of compassion about the services we provide as a not-for-profit organization. It was an enjoyable evening for everyone thanks to Kerri's style, smile and love of life." — Kelly Crosby, vice president of philanthropy, Covenant Hospice

"Be ready for a side ache for two days after you hear Kerri Pomarolli. I was tempted to roll in the aisle, but I didn't want to miss the next one-liner! The best part was the winsome way Kerri let people know about Jesus. Kerri gave one of the clearest presentations of the gospel I have ever heard. Then she made us laugh again!"—Valerie Gallaher, women's ministry director, Sunridge Community Church, Temecula, CA

"Kerri was everything we hoped for to headline our Laugh Out Loud Christmas Outreach event. We had approximately 1,000 women enjoy an evening out filled with food, fun and laughter — a perfect combination. Kerri had us all laughing from the moment she stepped up on the stage. She is endearing and very funny as she shared her life experiences in a way we all could identify with and laugh about. Kerri is genuine and blessed us with her gift of humor and faith."—Nancy Alexander, women's outreach, Topeka Bible Church, KS

"Every entertainer or professional person's website will tell you how wonderful they are, but the persons do not always deliver. As a primary organizer for our event, Kerri went above and beyond meeting my expectations and fulfilling what we were trying to accomplish with our event."—Tony Leverett, singles pastor, Celebration Church Singles Ministry, New Orleans, LA

"Kerri was a breath of fresh air. I had the honor of being her hostess and was so blessed by her, even in our time just driving to and from the airport. She spoke directly to where I was at and encouraged me. She didn't hesitate to pray in power and authority for my situation. Her show later that evening had all our ladies giggling like school girls! Joy and laughter filled the place. She closed with a very short, but hugely impactful word, which stirred the hearts of our ladies. She tilled the soil with laughter then planted good seed in soil that was ready to receive! What an amazing gift. She's the total package. We look forward to having her back again!"—Cory Hudson, Celebration Christian Church

"Kerri Pomarolli had the packed house at the KKLA Women's Night Out laughing so hard they were crying! Her performance was fresh and upbeat, and every woman in the audience could relate to her insightful and humorous musings on life. She was witty and charismatic. You could tell she loves the Lord, her family and her comedy career! Kerri was a strong factor in our promo campaign for the Women's Night Out event. Using her in our ads gave the event a lot of appeal."—Kimber Stoutland, KKLA, Salem Communications
